IN MEMORIAM

In sad but loving remembrance of our dear Husband and Daddy, C. C. Ferguson, who departed five years ago, June 30, 1936.
It's lonely here without him,
And sad along life's way.
Life does not seem the same to us
Since he was called away.

Dear Daddy, how we miss you,
Words cannot begin to tell.
But some day we hope to meet you,
Where there is no sad farewell.

Don't take my WORD for it!
FRANK COLBY
GRATIS
Adv. Free; without charge or fee.
* * *
GRATIS should not be rhymed with lattice. The "a" has the long sound as in fray, gray, tray.
One should avoid the redundant expression "free gratis," or, worse still, "free gratis for nothing." Since GRATIS means "free," the word alone is sufficient, as "He sent us the tickets gratis."
Correct pronunciation:
GRAY-tiss
The "ay" sound is also correct in APPARATUS, FRACAS, and STATUS, although a few authorities show the flat "a" of mat, rat, as second choice. But best cultured usage is overwhelmingly in favor of the long "a," as:
AP-uh-RAY-tuss
FRAY-tuss
STAY-tuss
Many readers have seen this word in print: LITERATI. It means "men of letters." I have heard the word mispronounced: "LIT-er-AH-tee," even by members of the "literati." Rhyme the third syllable with day, and the last syllable with dye, as:
LIT-er-AY-ty
(Capitals indicate syllables to be accented.)

Plan Drive to Collect Scrap Aluminum

Richmond, June 30.- Eight regional defense councils in Virginia will conduct a collection of scrap aluminum, beginning July 21.

In asking General James A. Anderson, co-ordinator of the Virginia State Defense Council, to take charge of the campaign, Governor Price urged all Virginians to make a contribution to the nation's defense.

The regional defense councils will map the campaign in towns, cities and counties, the Statewide drive giving every council member the opportunity to help his country in time of need, General Anderson says.

A copy of a telegram received by Governor Price from F. H. LaGuardia, U. S. Director of Civilian Defense, will be put in the hands of every Defense Council member in Virginia, together with a statement by Colonel Robert T. Barton, jr, chairman of the Richmond area defense council, urging pitfalls to be avoided, based on Richmond's experience in collecting scrap aluminum.

Director LaGuardia said, in part, A great deal of preliminary planning is necessary in informing the public and arranging for collection centers. Our job is to collect the aluminum. The OPM will later designate various places where the scrap is to be delivered, sorted and transported to smelters.'

On a basis of a sixth of a pound per capita, Virginia would furnish about 3,000 pounds of scrap aluminum, General Anderson said, adding he hoped this figure would be exceeded.

(Editor's note: On this basis, Appomattox county should be called upon to furnish 1,500 pounds of aluminum....which indicates that the undertaking this campaign will be a big one.)

Every Virginian take this to heart, for America needs the help of its patriotic citizens,' General Anderson said.

It is expected at the State Capitol considerable rivalry will be developed among the eight regional defense councils in their efforts to surpass tentative goals.

WPA ROLLS ARE CUT

A total of 5,500 persons are to be dropped from WPA rolls in Virginia, July 3, as the result of a government order, R. S. Hummel, State WPA Administrator, has estimated. Formal notice of the slash was received at WPA headquarters in Richmond on June 25, at which time it was explained that the heavy curtailment was made necessary by a cu: in appropriations authorized in Washington.

Allowing an average of 3.5 individuals represented by each case or worker, 19,250 people will be seriously affected by the curtailment, officials figured.

It is expected that a large number will be compelled to apply for relief. In Richmond, most WPA projects that embrace 20 or less people will be abandoned entirely, and many which provide work for groups of more than 20 will also be dropped, with practically all the projects affected by the new order.

Local Team Now in Tie For 1st Place

Winners in their last trio of games, the Appomattox Skyline ball team will be idle over the Fourth of July, but will play a postponed league game at Brookneal Saturday afternoon. Sunday afternoon, the local team will go outside of the league to take on the Farmville team at Farmville.

Before one of the largest crowds of the year, Appomattox took the measure of the Buena Vista Volunteers on the Lee Theatre diamond last Sunday afternoon, 5 runs to 2, to go into a tie with Buena Vista for first place in the league. The game was a corking good pitching battle between Specs Garbee and the Volunteer southpaw, Red Yeague, with the victory going to Appomattox on the basis of timely hits and some loose Volunteer fielding. Appomattox scored three runs in the second inning, on one hit, for what proved to be the winning margin. Nick LaTowich added a home run. Harry Ewers led the local hitters

Buena Vista has lost but three games this season, and Appomattox has accounted for all three. This is quite a reversal from last season, when Appomatox won the league championship, but did not take a game from the Volunteers.

Last Wednesday night, at the Lynchburg city stadium, Appomattox defeated Bedford, 4 to 2, and then won again, at Bedford Saturday, 11 to 0.

Registration in Va. Was Below Expectation

In the registration of young men who have become 21 years of age since October 16, last, held Tuesday July 1, a total of 45 was reported for Appomattox county. However, of this total, four cards will be sent to Selective Service boards out of the county, having a net total of 41 for Appomattox.

First reports on the registration show a general registration in Virginia below that which had been anticipated.

Selective Service officials had estimated that between eighteen and twenty thousand would register in the state Tuesday, but final totals appeared to be right much short of that figure.

Registration for the entire county of Appomattox took place at the court house here, with Selective officials in charge. Registration began at 7 A. M. with Toby Inge, Jr., the first man to register.

Among those registering in Richmond was James Price, Jr., son of Governor James H. Price.

The Selective Service Board of Appomattox county has announced that the following registrants have been selected for induction into the armed forces, and will report here to leave for the induction center in Richmond on July 10, at 9:40 A. M.:

Order No.	Name
342	Havilah Everette Phelps
469	Malcolm Twyman Drinkard
474	Herman Kemper Kirkpatrick
482	Harpson Stuart Fleshman
552	Woodrow Wilson Williams

The following registrants will report here to leave for induction center on July 21:

Order No.	Name
418	John Phillip Carroll
459	Job Humbles

MEN OVER 25 DEFERRED

Selective Service narrowed its age limits this week with the blanket deferment of all men 28 years of age or older not now in training.

The effect of the order was to make only those from 21 through 27 liable to a year's duty with the army in the future and it increased the likelihood of an early call for many of those just become 21, who registered Tuesday of this week.

Brigadier General Lewis B. Hershey, Deputy Selective Service Director, who issued the deferment order, said he acted at the request of Congressional leaders in anticipation of final approval by Congress of legislation which would have the same effect.

The order affects approximately eight million men between the ages of 28 and 36, or almost half of those who signed up in the registration last October 16, when all those 21 to 36 were required to register.

Some authorities held to the view that the July 1 registration of men become 21 since October 16, would almost replace those deferred by the 28 year ruling, since a large proportion of the latter were being deferred anyway because of dependents.

However, this deferment applies only in peacetime, and any war emergency would automatically make those in the deferred classification subject again to call for service.
